ABOUT DR. UPIOMOH

Dr. Upiomoh is a happy wife, mother of many children, and an extraordinary global leader whose visionary approach shines through her role as Director of Executive Programs & Policies at the Canadian Congress on Inclusive Diversity & Workplace Equity. A celebrated global speaker, spiritual teacher, leadership expert, and cultural educator, she masterfully bridges modern governance with Indigenous wisdom, creating transformative leadership models that leave a lasting impact.

With deep roots in the traditions of Meritah (Africa), Dr. Upiomoh is an initiate of the revered Dogomba (Dogon) bloodline, continuously learning from the most esteemed elders of Western Meritah. In addition, her traditional training from Indigenous temples across the continent equips her with unique leadership insights that merge the timeless wisdom of Africa with the demands of contemporary leadership, making her a truly exceptional leader. Her intelligent blending of both worlds ensures that leadership not only drives results but resonates deeply with cultural meaning for leaders and their constituents.

As CEO of Repiyah Heritage Media, Dr. Upiomoh leads an African Heritage Communications medium that stands as a beacon of African heritage, committed to preserving and elevating the original stories of our ancestors. With deep roots in rich cultural narratives, timeless values, and ancient traditions, Repiyah Heritage Media inspires, educates, and rekindles the spirit of African Indigenous greatness!

Dr. Upiomoh's role as Special Advisor of Policy & Government Affairs at the Legislative Assembly of Ontario, Canada, honed her expertise in government operations and policy development. Working closely with the Member of Provincial Parliament and the former Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Labour, Immigration, Training, and Skills Development, currently the Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Mines, and the Chair of all Government Agencies, she leads strategic initiatives, advise on critical policies, and coordinate high-level government activities. Her in-depth understanding of government agencies is a valuable asset in her current role, allowing her to guide governments, institutions, and organizations in navigating the complexities of public administration with cultural sensitivity and strategic foresight.

Beyond her expertise in government affairs, Dr. Upiomoh is a highly respected Cultural Consultant to the Royal Office of His Royal Highness King Nana Yaw Osam I for North America. Her appointment as the International UN Eminent Cultural Heritage and Indigenous Education for Economic Advancement Ambassador and Global Diplomat for ACCP further highlights her global leadership and dedication to advancing cultural heritage and Indigenous education on an international stage.

An entrepreneur of sense and wisdom, Dr. Upiomoh excels in offering solutions that meet the fundamental needs of communities. As a valuable connector, she fosters strategic business partnerships that bridge cultural, economic, and social divides to create impactful opportunities. Her entrepreneurial vision ensures that communities not only thrive but are empowered through sustainable solutions that address everyday challenges.

Dr. Upiomoh is the Founder and Executive Director of the Meritah Wisdom Education Center for Children and Families, a celebrated storyteller, and an author who honours African ancestral traditions through her work. She holds a Master of Arts in Educational Leadership and Policy from the University of Toronto and is currently completing a Ph.D. in Social Justice Education at the same institution.

Her work not only fosters inclusivity but also ensures that leaders and organizations alike are deeply connected to their cultural identity, paving the way for a future where leadership is both impactful and makes cultural meaning for individuals, communities, and nations.
